Taxis from the airport to Plateau cost 800/1000. You can pay in Euros (10€ to Praia in June 2016). There is one bus line that serves the airport but it's better to just take a taxi since there is actually only one or two buses that serves this line.

The normal taxi fare between two furthest points of the city shouldn't be more 1500 escudos in daytime and 1800 escudos at night time, example Pensamento to Palmarejo, or Palmarejo to Achada Mato. Taxi drivers usually expect to get a tip, give around 50 escudos to 100 escudos. Just be careful and always drive with the taxis that have a taximeter, so that they don't overcharge you

The stairs at the edge of Achada Santo Antonio towards Plateau are unsafe, also during the day, avoid that neighbourhood

Santiago

Santo Antao

- Porto Novo – not worth it
- Ponta do Sol – meh
- Hike: Cova crater → Vale do Paul → Vila das Pombas (3-5h)
 - Cova is a volcanic caldera and on its highest point, it reaches 1500 m. Its diameter is about 1 km and is used as fertile farmland and pastureland. There is even a small village in the caldera which boasts particularly fertile soils due to high precipitation values carried by trade winds.
 - I recommend walking down from the Old Road to the crater. The path cannot be missed. It leads you to the top of the edge and from here you will have the most BREATHTAKING view ever on Paul Valley.
 - Sometimes, it might be clouded but the 1-hour trail from Old Street to the crater's edge will be totally worth it!
- Viewpoint: Delgadim (Delgandinho)
 - Delgadim or Delgandinho is one of Santo Antao's most emblematic sites. You'll reach the mountain ridge after 30 minutes from the Cova crater. Feel free to park the car on the left side (coming from Cova) and enjoy a spectacular view on 2 valleys.
- Hike (easy): Ponto do Sol → Fontainhas (1h)
 - 1-2h trail hike from Ponta do Sol to Fontainhas is one of the best hiking trails in Santo Antao. Just drive to Ponta do Sol and leave your car there.

Indicative prices:

Old Road: 4500 CVE (40 €) to Ribeira Grande

New Road: 400 CVE (4 €) to Ribeira Grande

I ABSOLUTELY recommend taking the Old Road by aluguer. It is an experience on its own! The Old Road used to connect the harbor of Porto Novo to Ribeira Grande and was built in the 60s. The mountains were just too steep to build a road along the coastline.

Paved with cobblestones, it will take you to some of Santo Antao's most emblematic sites such as the Cova Crater, o Delgadim (Delgandinho) and several viewpoints. – Book here your car tour in Santo Antao

Boa Vista

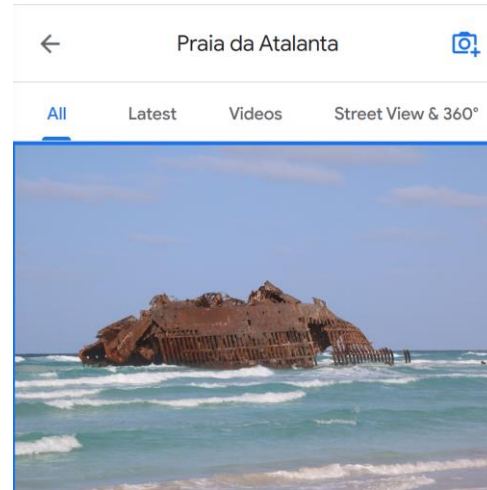

Estoril beach

Santa Monica beach

Boa Vista offers a wide choice of beaches and each of them makes beach hopping here a truly rewarding experience. The island's most popular beach, Santa Monica, features powder-soft golden sands and clear waters – a picture-postcard panorama! Nature lovers can admire the sand dunes and blonde stretch of Praia de Chaves or saunter along the sweeping white sandy Lacacao beach. If you're into outdoor fun, try windsurfing, kitesurfing or diving at Estoril and Verandinha beaches.

Museum

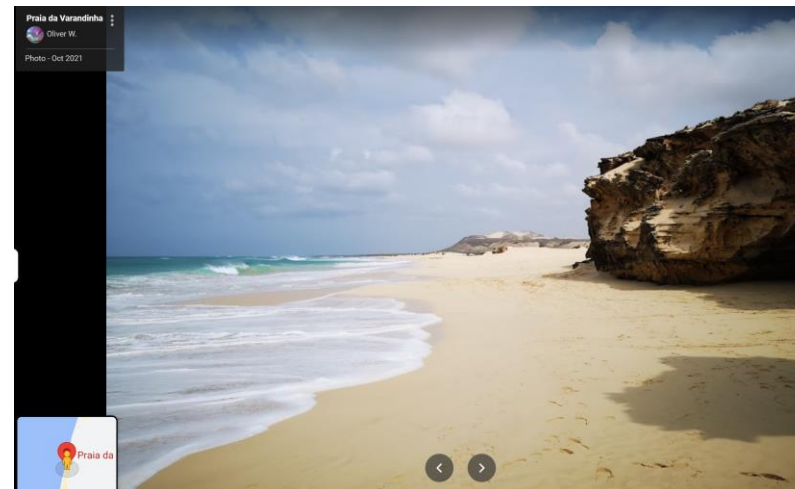

Povoacao Velha

Interesting unfinished buildings, here and there. Apparently they don't pay tax on an incomplete building. It gives the appearance of poverty but though the standard of living isn't always very high, the people are happy and generous.

Boa Vista – turtle watching

- Cape Verde is the third largest reserve in the world for the number of nesting turtles housed, just after Oman and the southeastern United States. Turtle-watching tour (conducted by nesting turtles) is conducted at night from early July to mid-October. August is the peak of the nest season. In September and October, baby turtles can be observed in one of the numerous hatcheries built on the beaches, to save the condemned nests to increase the productivity of this threatened population. An 80-minute car journey (4-wheel vehicle pick-up vehicle) takes guests to the nesting beaches on the south-east coast of the island, within the Tartarughe Nature Reserve.
- An introductory briefing will provide general information on the biology of sea turtles and on the work of safeguarding in the island of Cape Verde, but also the indications on the basic rules to follow in order to minimize the disturbance to the animals. Observation of the turtles: the possibility to see the turtles is almost 100% guaranteed. However, keep in mind that often turtles that reach the shore do not lay their eggs because they do not find a suitable place on the beach. The females will be approached only after they have started the deposition.

Boa Vista - Snorkel

- Cape Verde is among the top ten places in the world for its coral biodiversity. Although there are no real coral reefs in the archipelago, there is a large number of sites rich in coral communities.

The Baia das Gatas, on the NE coast of Boa Vista, combines optimal natural conditions for both coral development and safe snorkeling.

The term “Gatas” refers to the local name of the nurse shark, whose mating occurs in these waters during the summer.

- The coral community that is found in this bay is characterized by species of hermetic hard corals, which support a particular diversity of marine life.
- Snorkeling tours are only possible at high tide.
- We supply the necessary freediving equipment (wetsuit, non-slip shoes, life jacket, mask and snorkel) and we do not use fins to avoid damaging the corals.

 DEPARTURE
From all the hotels, for a minimum of 4 participants.

 TRANSFER
Trip to As Gatas (4-wheel pick-up vehicle) takes approximately 50 minutes from Sal-Rei.

 TOUR
We normally spend 45-60 minutes in the water.

 COFFEE BREAK
On the way back, we stop in a bar of a small village to take a drink and a snack.

 DURATION
Total lenght of the excursion is between 4 and 5 hours.

Drink & eat

- Kriola coffee
- Emicela coffee
- avocado mousse for dessert,
- Tuna is common
- Wahoo - a white fleshed fish with similar texture.
- Lagostada – a lobster dish
- Cachupa - the national dish made with maize and potato. Fish or chicken commonly added for flavor.
- Tosta mista - common toasted ham and cheese sandwich.
- igname (sweet potato), garoupa, and grogue (the local sugar cane alcohol).

Salt beds

Pedra de Lume salt pans

Explore the spectacular Pedra de Lume salt pans – natural salt lakes formed in the crater of an extinct volcano. These warm pools are saltier than the Dead Sea, making it practically impossible to sink.

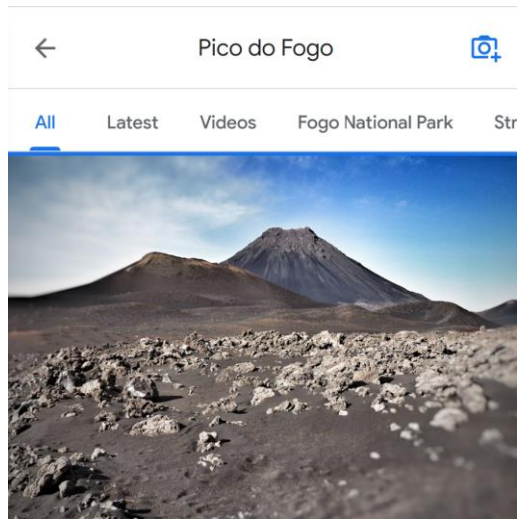

visit the Buracona Lagoon along Sal's west coast. When sunrays hit the waters of this sea-side cave at noon, the entire surface lights up like a big blue eye - it makes the perfect setting for romantic couples holidays!

You can pair this visit with a trip to Shark Bay, which is also on Sal. You can wade out into the ocean to join a school of lemon sharks, which cruise up and down this area hunting for fish. While the sharks aren't a threat to people, it's still exhilarating watching their fins slicing through the waves. Make sure you hire a pair of water shoes on the beach, as the rocks here can be sharp.
